Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I would like to opine that the proposed settlement between the 9 states, the DOJ, and Microsoft is a bad idea. It does not even qualify as a slap on the wrist. If it does anything, it allows Microsoft more presence in a different market. One possible remedy might be, to force Microsoft to open its file formats, all formats, not just some that are rarely used. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Calvin Harrigan
